

Walking in Swale

The borough of Swale is in the North Kent and has lots to offer visitors, from 'Blue Flag' (2018) award-winning beaches on the Isle of Sheppey, to the busy historic market towns of Faversham, Sheerness and Sittingbourne. There are also a number of pretty villages nestled in the Kent Downs Area of Outstanding Natural Beauty and a vast expanse of marshes, nature reserves and country parks where visitors can go walking.

The map and routes in this file are just quick examples of opportunities within the three town areas that will also take in attractions listed on the Visit Swale website pages. If you want your attraction listed please contact – tourismsupport@swale.gov.uk

There are many examples of other walks and or websites that you can get inspiration from to get out and be a bit more active and those we are aware of are listed on the Visit Swale website - www.visit-swale.co.uk/see-and-do/cycling-and-walking/ - again if you know of others let us know and we can add the information to the pages.

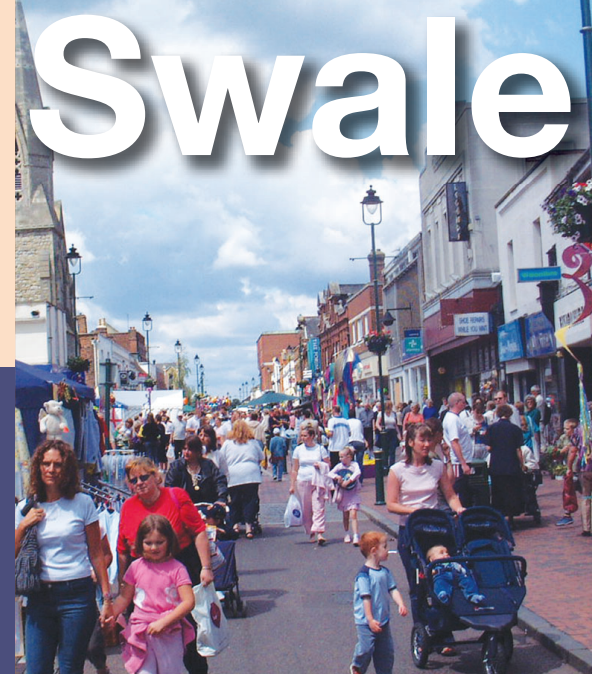

Volunteering in Swale

Volunteers are the backbone to many of the tourist destinations and attractions in Swale. Without their dedication, hard work and innovative ideas, many of the things that bring people to Swale just wouldn't continue to be there.

Could you give your time, energy and expertise to some of these organisations? Why not get involved and volunteer? For more information on how to get involved please contact the organisations directly or visit www.do-it.org.uk
